

12/11 FILED
DATE: TIME: and/pm

By:
CLERK, FSM SUPREME COURT
POHNPEI
TRIAL DIVISION

1 Michael J. Sipos, Esq.
P.O. Box 2069
2 Pohnpei, FM 96941
Tel: (691) 320-6450
3 E-mail: MSipos@mail.fm
4 Attorney for Plaintiff
FSM Social Security Administration
5

6 IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE
7 FEDERATED STATES OF MICRONESIA
8 TRIAL DIVISION - POHNPEI STATE

9 FSM SOCIAL SECURITY ) CIVIL CASE No. 2014-037 ADMINISTRATION, )
10 )
Plaintiff, ) MOTION TO STRIKE AND OPPOSITION 11 ) TO UNTIMELY ANSWER AND
v. ) IMPROPERLY FILED MOTION TO 12 ) ENLARGE TIME
APSCO, SHIRO AKINAGA, )
13 ) IDELPHONSE PANGELINEN, PETER )
14 )
MAKIO JACOB, and SUSI KUSTIN, )
15 ) Defendants. )
16 )

17 COMES NOW plaintiff Federated States of Micronesia Social 18 Security Administration ("FSMSSA") and respectfully moves the 19 court for an order striking defendants' answer to complaint and 20 moving to strike and opposing their motion to enlarge time to 21 file answer on the grounds that the defaults of all defendants
22 had already been taken at the time these papers were filed.

23 The applicable rule of law provides that the court may not 24 take cognizance of untimely motions or pleadings filed after 25 entry of default unless or until the default is set aside

1 (Oceanic Lumber, Inc. v. Vincent & Bros. Constr. Co., 16 FSM
2 Intrm. 222, 224 (Chk. 2008)). Stated alternatively, a defaulted
3 party may not file a responsive pleading or any motion except
4 one to set the default aside under Rule 55(c).

5 Moreover, the defendants' motion to enlarge time to file an 6 answer, having been made under FSM Civil Rule 6(d), may not be
7 construed as a motion to set aside default under the applicable
8 rule (Civil Rule 55) because as it fails to meet the threshold
9 criteria for a default set aside motion under FSM law.

10 This motion is supported by the attached Memorandum of 11 Points and Authorities, the pleadings and papers on file, oral
12 argument if deemed necessary, and such other matters the court
13 may consider.
14

15 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

16 A. Background

17 On November 20, 2014 an Entry of Default was issued by the 18 Clerk of Court under Rule 55(a) against the moving defendants.
19 This occurred following the expiration of time within which they 20 would have been permitted to appear in the action by filing an 21 answer or other responsive pleading.

22 On or about November 26, 2014 the undersigned received an
23 e-mail from opposing counsel Marstella Jack, Esq. acknowledging 24 that the time to answer the complaint had already lapsed and 25 requesting an enlargement of time on behalf of Shiro Akinaga,

1 and presumably the other APSCO related parties, within which to
2 answer the complaint. In response, the undersigned counsel for 3 plaintiff FSMSSA informed attorney Jack the defaults of all such 4 defendants had already been taken. This e-mail exchange is 5 attached as Exhibit "A".

6 No further communication between counsel took place
7 regarding this case until the afternoon of December 1, 2014 when 8 Ms. Jack called the undersigned. Counsel for plaintiff took the 9 call but was not then able to confer at length due other
10 pressing matters. The details of this exchange are more fully 11 described in the e-mail attached as Exhibit "B". Shortly after 12 receiving the December 1, 2014 phone call plaintiff's counsel
13 received service of a motion for enlargement of time to answer
14 and an answer to the complaint.

15 Anticipating having to file this motion to strike and 16 opposition, plaintiff's counsel wrote the detailed Rule 6(d)
17 "meet and confer" e-mail attached hereto as Exhibit "B"
18 explaining why the subject motion to enlarge time and the answer
19 were untimely and improper and setting forth the applicable law
20 and procedure. Plaintiff FSMSSA also explained that it would 21 move to strike the improper pleading unless the moving parties
22 otherwise agreed to withdraw it.
23

24 B. The Answer is Untimely and Should be Stricken
25

1           Once a defendant's default has been entered he may not
2 appear and defend until or unless the default has been set
3 aside. The applicable procedure to set aside a default is set
4 forth in FSM Civil Rule 55(c).

5           Under the authority of Oceanic Lumber, Inc. v. Vincent &
6 Bros. Constr. Co., 16 FSM Intrm. 222, 224 (Chk. 2008), when
7 defendants' defaults are entered before they file their answer
8 and when the default is not subsequently set aside under Civil 9 Procedure Rule 55(c), the court cannot take cognizance of the 10 later-filed answer. It is therefore subject to being stricken.

11
12           C. The Motion to Enlarge is Procedurally Improper

13           Prior to filing an appearance a defaulted party must first 14 move to set aside the default. The standard for doing so under 15 Rule 55(c) is not the same one that applies to a Rule 6(d)
16 motion to enlarge. Indeed, as the court stated in FSM Dev. Bank
17 v. Gouland, 9 FSM Intrm. 375 (Chuuk 2000), "[i]n determining 18 whether good cause to vacate an entry of default exists a court
19 evaluates "whether the default was willful, whether setting it
20 aside would prejudice the adversary, and whether a meritorious
21 defense is presented.'" One Parcel, 763 F.2d at 183; Traguth v.
22 Zuck, 710 F.2d 90, 94 (2d Cir. 1983) (quoting Meehan, 652 F.2d 23 at 277). "[A] court may also examine into such things as the 24 proffered explanation for the default, the good faith of the 25 parties, the amount of money involved, and the timing of the

1 motion." Coon, 867 F.2d at 76; see also Pontarelli, 713 F.
2 Supp. at 528.

3 As the court can see from Exhibit "A", the undersigned
4 asked defense counsel whether the failure to defend prior to 5 entry of default was deliberate and also asked whether the 6 defendants had a meritorious defense. The facts of this case
7 involving unpaid social security taxes made this inquiry
8 particularly apt since such taxes are imposed by law and the 9 failure to pay taxes due and owing constitutes a per se breach
10 of the applicable FSM Code provisions compelling quarterly
11 reporting and payment of SS taxes. Opposing counsel never 12 replied with an answer.
13

14 Moreover, the motion to compel presently before the court
15 does not offer anything in the way of excusable neglect
16 establishing that the failure to defend was not deliberate, and 17 it fails to address all of the other criteria required by law
18 prior to a default set aside. Indeed, a review of the 19 explanations provided reveals that the attempted excuses
20 surround actions taken by opposing counsel after the defaults
21 were already taken, which occurred before she was retained.
22 Thus nothing she has offered can possibly justify the 23 defendants' failure to timely appear and defend.
24

25 Similarly, the defendants have offered nothing in the way of a meritorious defense. A review of the untimely answer

1 (which must be stricken regardless) shows the absence of any
2 affirmative defenses and nothing by way of facts to counter
3 plaintiff's proof of taxes owed.

4 It should further be noted that the FSMSSA will still be 5 required to establish a valid basis for the taxes it claims are 6 owing through the submission of affidavits prior to entry of 7 judgment. Such a motion for entry of default judgment must be
8 made pursuant to Rule 55(b) with further safeguards as the court
9 deems proper available under Rule 55(b)(2).

10
11 D. Conclusion

12 The moving defendants' failure to move to set the entry of 13 default aside pursuant to Rule 55(c), combined with the lack of 14 any showing that the default was not deliberate or that a
15 meritorious defense exists, plaintiff submits that the untimely 16 answer must be stricken and the motion to enlarge denied as 17 procedurally improper and stricken accordingly. Thereafter,
18 should the defendants seek to have their defaults set aside they 19 should be ordered to file the appropriate motion as required by 20 rule or face exposure to damages under a later filed motion for 21 entry of default judgment by plaintiff FSMSSA.

22 /
23 /
24 /
25

1 Respectfully submitted.

2
3 DATED: December 11, 2014

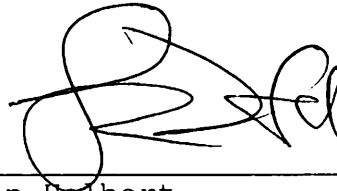

4
5 Michael J. Sipos, Esq.
6 Attorney for Plaintiff
7 FSM Social Security
8 Administration

9
10 Certificate of Service

11 I certify that on December 11, 2014 I hand-served a true
12 and correct copy of this motion to strike compel by delivering 13 it to defendants' counsel of record as follows:

14 Marstella E. Jack, Esq. HAND DELIVERY
15 P.O. Box 2210
16 Kolonia, Pohnpei FM

17 Attorney for Defendants
18 APSCO, Akinaga and Pangelinan

19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30
31
32
33
34
35
36
37
38
39
40
41
42
43
44
45
46
47
48
49
50
51
52
53
54
55
56
57
58
59
60
61
62
63
64
65
66
67
68
69
70
71
72
73
74
75
76
77
78
79
80
81
82
83
84
85
86
87
88
89
90
91
92
93
94
95
96
97
98
99
100
Kehlen Halbert

EXHIBIT A

Michael Sipos &lt;siposlaw@gmail.com&gt;

---

Enlargement for SS new complaint

2 messages

Marstella E. Jack <ejacklaw@gmail.com>

Wed, Nov 26, 2014 at 12:34 PM

To: Michael Sipos &lt;msipos@mail.fm&gt;

Hi Mike,

Shiro Akinaga approached me last Friday to represent them in a new suit you filed on behalf of your client FSMSSA. I am not in the office this week due to funerals but will be able to file the Answer next week Tuesday. I know the time to answer has lapsed and I seek your kind understanding in agreeing to this enlargement of time. Thank you Mike.

Cheers

*s/Marstella E. Jack
Law Office of Marstella E. Jack
P.O. Box 2210
2nd FL. John Sonden Building
Kolonja, Pohnpei, FSM 96941
Ph: (691)320-7400; M (691)922-3311
ejacklaw@gmail.com*

This message is confidential. It may also be privileged or otherwise protected by work product immunity or other legal rules. If you have received it by mistake, please let us know by email reply and delete it from your system; you may not copy this message or disclose its contents to anyone.

---

Michael Sipos <msipos@mail.fm>

Wed, Nov 26, 2014 at 2:45 PM

To: "Marstella E. Jack" &lt;ejacklaw@gmail.com&gt;, Maiumy Halbert &lt;myumatilla@gmail.com&gt;, "Alexander R. Narruhn" &lt;ssadmin@mail.fm&gt;

Dear Marstella:

The defaults of all defendants haV already been taken.

Please kindly indicate what defense, if any, your client has, as opposed to a defense that is intended solely to delay.

It would also appear the failure to defend to this point was deliberate. If I am wrong please explain with facts and I will confer with my client as part of my Rule 6 "meet and confer" obligations.

Please also understand in advance that the FSMSSA is facing financial challenges caused largely by employers who chose to break the law and fail to pay their tax obligations. If these defendants fall into that category know in advance the my client will not be inclined to contribute to needless delay and/or obfuscation as it has encountered with some of your other clients such as Roselyn Reyes / Miralles Pohnpei Arts and Crafts.

Let me know.

Mike

P.S. I am in Hawaii on my way back to Pohnpei at present so I have limited access to the Internet.

[Quoted text hidden]

--

Michael J. Sipos, Esq.
Attorney at Law
Federated States of Micronesia
P.O. Box 2069
Pohnpei, FM 96941
Phone: 691-320-6450
Email: msipos@mail.fm

*** CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE ***

This message, including any attachments, contains confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, you should delete this message and are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, or distribution of this message, or the taking of any action based on it, is strictly prohibited.

EXHIBIT B

Michael Sipos <siposlaw@gmail.com>

---

Re: Enlargement for SS new complaint - FSMSSA v. APSCO Construction, FSM CA No. 2014-036; and FSMSSA v. APSCO, FSM CA No. 2014-037

1 message

---

Michael Sipos <msipos@mail.fm>

Tue, Dec 2, 2014 at 4:48 AM

To: "Marstella E. Jack" <ejacklaw@gmail.com>, "Alexander R. Narruhn" <ssadmin@mail.fm>, Cathrine Jonas <sstax@mail.fm>, Maiumy Halbert <myumatilla@gmail.com>

Dear Marstella:

This is to acknowledge that you called my office over the phone late in the afternoon on December 1, 2014. I took your call and explained that I did not have much time to talk, as I was in the process of drafting papers that had to be filed by the end of the day.

You suggested that you would call me back after 4 p.m. and also let me know that you were calling about the FSMSSA's lawsuits against the APSCO/Akinaga defendants. I agreed to take your call after 4 o'clock.

After I hung up, however, I was informed by Maiumy that her notary expired a few days ago and that she would not be able to notarize my supporting affidavit. Thus, I was required to leave my office and go to the court to get my affidavit authenticated. I directed Maiumy to call and let you know I was leaving the office and would not be able to take your call after 4 p.m. as previously agreed. I also told her to tell you that I would be glad to talk to you tomorrow morning, December 2, 2014.

Shortly thereafter my office received service of motions to enlarge time to answer the complaints and out-of-time answers for filing in both of the APSCO related cases addressed by this e-mail string - FSMSSA v. APSCO Construction, FSM C.A. No. 2014-036 and FSMSSA v. APSCO, FSM C.A. No. 2014-037.

This shall also confirm that your only previous efforts to "meet and confer" with me in compliance with FSM Civil Rule 6 prior to filing the referenced motions occurred by way of the November 26, 2014 e-mail appended below. I replied to that e-mail on the same day informing you that defaults had already been taken in both cases and asking you to explain whether your clients had a valid defense or if they were interested in a defense based on delay alone. The full content of my reply e-mail is also appended below.

Had we engaged in further "meet and confer" discussions regarding your intended motions to enlarge and proposed filing of untimely answers, I would have informed you that the court may not consider an answer filed out-of time once a default is entered. Under the authority of Oceanic Lumber, Inc. v. Vincent & Bros. Constr. Co., 16 FSM Intrm. 222, 224 (Chk.

2008), when defendants' defaults are entered before they file their answer and when the default is not subsequently set aside under Civil Procedure Rule 55(c), the court cannot take cognizance of the later-filed answer.

Moreover, the required procedure before filing a post-default untimely answer is not a Rule 6 Motion to Enlarge. Rather, it is a Rule 55(c) Motion to Set Aside Entry of Default. Until such time as an entry of default is set aside a defaulted party is out of court and may not appear and defend. A post-default answer is therefore subject to being stricken. "Entry of a defendant's default cuts off his or her right to appear in the action or to present evidence." Clifton v. Tomb, 21 F.2d 893.

Under this rule and the authority of Oceanic Lumber the court may not accept an out of court answer for filing. Should the clerk do so, the court will order it stricken. The only procedure available to a defaulted defendant is to file a motion to set aside the default under FRCP 55(c).

My November 26, 2014 "meet and confer" e-mail asked whether your clients had a defense - as opposed of simply wanting to use you to help induce delay - because this is a required part of the standard for setting a default aside. FSM Dev. Bank v. Gouland, 9 FSM Intrm. 375 (Chuuk 2000), "[i]n determining whether good cause to vacate an entry of default exists a court evaluates "whether the default was willful, whether setting it aside would prejudice the adversary, and whether a meritorious defense is presented." One Parcel, 763 F.2d at 183; Traguth v. Zuck, 710 F.2d 90, 94 (2d Cir. 1983) (quoting Meehan, 652 F.2d at 277). "[A] court may also examine into such things as the proffered explanation for the default, the good faith of the parties, the amount of money involved, and the timing of the motion." Coon, 867 F.2d at 76; see also Pontarelli, 713 F. Supp. at 528.

As it stands, your clients have not offered any explanation for their failure to respond prior to the time defaults were entered in both of these cases on November 20, 2014. The excuses related to your personal issues are irrelevant as you were not retained until after the defaults were entered.

Please accept this e-mail as a formal request under FSM Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 6(d) for acquiescence to my client's intended motion to strike the untimely filed answers. Whether you agree to this request or not, please also know that the FSMSSA will oppose your procedurally inappropriate motion to enlarge on the grounds outlined above. Since you knew that the defaults had already been taken based on my e-mail of November 26, 2014 it does not appear that your motion to enlarge was legally or procedurally justified at the time of signing and filing.

I look forward to hearing from you on the request to agree to the issuance of an order striking the answers.

Regards, Mike

On Wed, Nov 26, 2014 at 12:34 PM, Marstella E. Jack <ejacklaw@gmail.com> wrote:

Hi Mike,

Shiro Akinaga approached me last Friday to represent them in a new suit you filed on behalf of your client FSMSSA. I am not in the office this week due to funerals but will be able to file the Answer next week Tuesday. I know the time to answer has lapsed and I seek your kind understanding in agreeing to this enlargement of time. Thank you Mike.

Cheers

s/Marstella E. Jack
Law Office of Marstella E. Jack
P.O. Box 2210
2nd FL. John Sonden Building
Kolonia, Pohnpei, FSM 96941
Ph: (691)320-7400; M (691)922-3311
ejacklaw@gmail.com

This message is confidential. It may also be privileged or otherwise protected by work product immunity or other legal rules. If you have received it by mistake, please let us know by email reply and delete it from your system; you may not copy this message or disclose its contents to anyone.

Michael Sipos <msipos@mail.fm>

Nov 26 (6 days ago)

to Maiumy, Alexander, Marstella

Dear Marstella:

The defaults of all defendants haV already been taken.

Please kindly indicate what defense, if any, your client has, as opposed to a defense that is intended solely to delay.

It would also appear the failure to defend to this point was deliberate. If I am wrong please explain with facts and I will confer with my client as part of my Rule 6 "meet and confer" obligations.

Please also understand in advance that the FSMSSA is facing financial challenges caused largely by employers who chose to break the law and fail to pay their tax obligations. If these defendants fall into that category know in advance the my client will not be inclined to contribute to needless delay and/or obfuscation as it has encountered with some of your other clients such as Roselyn Reyes / Miralles Pohnpei Arts and Crafts.

Let me know.

Mike

P.S. I am in Hawaii on my way back to Pohnpei at present so I have limited access to the Internet.

--

Michael J. Sipos, Esq.

Attorney at Law
Federated States of Micronesia
P.O. Box 2069
Pohnpei, FM 96941
Phone: 691-320-6450
Email: msipos@mail.fm

*** CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE ***

This message, including any attachments, contains confidential information intended for a specific individual and purpose, and is protected by law. If you are not the intended recipient, you should delete this message and are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, or distribution of this message, or the taking of any action based on it, is strictly prohibited.